A FULL SPECTRUM MINING PRACTICE

We have a truly global, cross-discipline team which advises on the full range of mining and metals-related transactions and issues (including disputes and regulatory investigations).

The quality of our team is recognised through our award-winning mandates and our long-standing client relationships. We have a global view and a detailed understanding of the sector, its drivers and competitive landscapes which makes us extremely well-placed to assist our mining and metals clients across the globe.

In addition to the core mining disciplines of project development, construction, financing, commodity trading, M&A and dispute resolution, Clifford Chance's mining team also includes market-leading sanctions, regulatory, ESG and compliance teams. In a world where cost-efficiency is key, our experience of advising on joint ventures, outsourcing and "big data" projects is also an important part of our offering.
